THOUSANDS GOING TO INAUGURATION

Thirty Special Trains Will Leave
Richmond—Great Display of Military.

Richmond people in great numbers are planning to attend the inauguration of President Wilson, according to the estimates of railway officials, who are prepared to handle a record-breaking crowd.

"If only the weather is fair I am confident that we will carry between eight and ten thousand persons from Richmond along," said Walter M. Taylor, traveling passenger agent of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, yesterday.

Thirty special trains from all over the South will pass through Richmond on the 2d and early on the 3d. There will be a special train from Richmond at 7 o'clock on the morning of the 4th. At 4:15 P. M. on the 4th, a special train for the Richmond Blues will be run, and at 7:45 a special for the First Regiment of Virginia Infantry. Both of these trains will carry extra coaches for other passengers.

If the number of special trains chartered for military organizations is any indication, I believe that the inaugural parade this year will be the greatest military display in years. The Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Sixty-first, and Sixty-second Regiments of Infantry from Fort Myer, Virginia, are sending a thousand men, who will pass through Richmond; as will also the Citadel Cadets from Charleston, S. C., the Georgia Military Academy Cadets and detachments from other military schools and militia organizations.

While nearly every one is going to Washington on the 4th, or sooner, one very conspicuous party will be leaving on that day. That party is the Presidential Taft. The Taft party will leave Washington on a special train over the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad at 3:45 P. M. on Tuesday, and will pass through Richmond at 6:25 o'clock.

"HIGHWAYMEN" FREED

Supposed Hold-Up Shown to Have Been Merely a Street Fight.

Three alleged highwaymen, once brought to a trial, and then granted a retrial, were dismissed yesterday morning in Police Court, when they faced Justice Crutchfield for the second time. The men were James Burke, John B. and Julian Wood, who were charged with attempting to hold up John Schmidt on the night of February 17, to rob him of $22, which he had on his person. The testimony of Richard Sales, a watchman at the city stables, who saw the affair, resulted in the dismissal of the charges. Schmidt, who is a driver for the city, had the three men arrested on the charge of highway robbery, and on his testimony they were taken to the Police Court to the grand jury. Later, however, Walter Hutchinson, an employee of the City Water Department, went to Commonwealth's Attorney Polke with the assertion that he had seen the alleged hold-up, and that it had been nothing more than an ordinary free-for-all fight. The case was immediately reopened. Yesterday, in court, it developed that the four were on a pleasure party, became embroiled among themselves and began a four-cornered fight. When Sergeant Sherry arrived on the scene and grabbed Schmidt and Wood, Schmidt trumped up the highwayman story. It is said, to shield himself from arrest.

Held for Horse Theft.

Robert Nichols, a laborer, Oppenheimer, alias Isaac Rubin, and Sam Oppenheimer, were arrested in Police Court yesterday morning on charges of stealing a horse and buggy, valued at $75, from R. A. Nichols and Sam Oppenheimer were dismissed, while Nichols was sent on to the grand jury.

The petitioner is a merchant and hotel owner in Blackstone. In the list of creditors holding securities for their claims appear the Bank of Fluvanna, Park Union, $7,500, and these from Blackstone; Blackstone Manufacturing Company, $1,584; Barrow Grocery Company, $1,275; E. ATTEMPT MADE TO BURN RESIDENCE

Negro Who Rented Room in Yard Arrested After Police Investigated Fire.

Clinton James, a negro man, who completed a short jail term yesterday morning, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Bicycle Officer W. J. Botto on the charge of setting fire to the house at 12 West Grace Street and attempting to burn it. The negro was committed to a cell on the charge. On his release yesterday morning he found that his room had been rented to another negro during his sojourn in jail, and he immediately became enraged. In the afternoon, servants discovered fire in a bedroom on the second floor rear and a still alarm was turned in. Engine Company No. 5 responded, and after extinguishing the blaze without difficulty, firemen found that the flames had originated in a bed mattress in the room.

While the firemen were still working over the small blaze, smoke was seen pouring from an adjoining room. Quick use of chemicals smothered the second blaze, and investigating showed that this fire had also started in a bed mattress. Chief Joyner was notified of the suspicious circumstances, and after viewing the situation, put the police on the case. Investigating by Officer Botto resulted in the arrest of the erstwhile negro lodger.

RICHMOND WINS OVER CINCINNATI

Beats Ohio City in Race for 1914 Convention of School Superintendents.

TO BRING 1,500 DELEGATES

Association of Educators Will Attract Leading School Men From Many States.

Richmond was selected in Philadelphia yesterday by the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association, as the convention city for 1914. Cincinnati, Palm Beach, Memphis and Chicago all figured in the race, with this city the popular favorite from the beginning. The field narrowed to Cincinnati and Richmond, the latter winning out on the second ballot.

A delegation of twenty-eight from this State was present at the final session yesterday afternoon to press the claim of Virginia's capital city. Business Manager Dabney, of the Chamber of Commerce, made a speech, presenting the formal invitation on behalf of the City Council, Mayor Ainslie, Governor Mann, the several commercial organizations of the city, and the State Department of Public Instruction. He was followed by Principal J. H. Saunders, of the William F. Fox School, who spoke for the City Board of Education.

The association closed a four-days' convention yesterday, with an average attendance of 2,000 delegates drawn from every State in the Union. The Richmond delegation included, besides Mr. Saunders and Mr. Dabney, Superintendent J. A. C. Chandler, of the City School, and Superintendent of Public Instruction R. C. Stearns and former Superintendent of Public Instruction J. D. Eggleston.

Will File Time Later.

No date was fixed yesterday for the Richmond meeting. The time of holding the convention will be decided by the executive committee of the organization at a later meeting. It is probable, however, that the superintendents will meet in this city about this time next year.

The success of the Richmond delegation is particularly gratifying to educators in this city and in the State at large, who are engaged at present in a campaign to lift Virginia from the low standing it occupies among the States of the Union in point of popular education. To this end every agency is courted which will bring suggestions for improvement.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 delegates, it is expected, will be attracted to the city next year by this latest convention. The Department of Superintendents draws membership from all parts of the United States, and is one of the most prominent educational bodies of the country. The daily addresses and lectures at the Philadelphia convention, which came to an end yesterday, attracted thousands of persons interested in school work.

Eleven Conventions Booked.

In line with the general idea of public betterment represented by the convention just secured, are the conventions next April in this city, of the Conference for Education in the South, and of the Playground and Recreation Association of the United States. Each of these bodies will bring to Richmond experts of national reputation.

Eleven conventions of a national or divisional character are booked for Richmond for the coming year. With one exception, they are secured through the joint efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the Council Committee on Advertising. In extending invitations the city has consistently adhered to the practice of bidding only for those conventions which promise to be of service in the handling of particular problems which confront Richmond to-day.

COMPANY NOT LIABLE

Verdict for Defendant in Suit of Elinora L. Barnes.

In the case of Elinora L. Barnes against the Virginia Electric and Power Company, which has been on trial for the past two days in the City Circuit Court, verdict and judgment were entered yesterday for the defendant. The action was brought through Attorney John A. Lamb for damages in the sum of $5,000. The plaintiff claimed that on June 26 last, as she was alighting from a street car at Robinson and Beverly streets, the car started forward, throwing her to the ground. After hearing the evidence the jury was of the opinion that the street car company was not liable.

ALDERMEN MEET TO-NIGHT

Joint Session Also Called to Elect School Trustees.

Both branches of the City Council are called to meet to-night at 8 o'clock in joint session to elect three school trustees, the terms of Roland H. Childrey, Dr. C. R. Robins and W. J. Kimbrough expiring April 1. There is no announced opposition.

The Board of Aldermen is called to meet at 8:30 o'clock to pass on the annual appropriation ordinance, which has been adopted by the Common Council. It is expected that the paper will be concurred in. No objection has been raised to any of the items included in the budget, though there has been some criticism of its failure to include several pet projects.

CHARLOTTE BANK HELD NOT LIABLE

Court of Appeals Relieves It From Payment of $27,500 Claim.

CHARGED WITH LAND FRAUD

Litigation Sought to Recover on Transaction Concluded Forty Years Ago.

The First National Bank of Charlotte, N. C., in an opinion by Judge Dayton, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, yesterday, is relieved from the payment of $27,500, the amount of a claim brought against it in the District Court at Salisbury, N. C., by Lewis B. Fronberger, of Knoxville, Tenn.

In its decision yesterday the Circuit Court of Appeals affirms the verdict of the trial court, denying the validity of the claim. A decree to this effect was entered at Salisbury on April 2, 1912. From this decree Fronberger appealed to the Circuit Court, assigning numerous errors.

The litigation was closed was remarkable in that it sought to recover $27,500, which, Fronberger claimed, the First National Bank of Charlotte fraudulently acquired at the expense of the bankrupt estate of D. C. and J. Fronberger, who died as partners in Tennessee prior to October 14, 1869. The action was brought to recover on a transaction that took place more than forty years ago.

From the record it appears that the Fronbergers owned a valuable parcel of land near Shelby, N. C. In 1869 the bank secured judgment for a debt of $4,500, which it held against the estate of the deceased. The property was sold at public auction. The property was bid in and bought by the bank for $12,500.

In 1877, A. J. Crews, a large creditor of the Fronbergers, satisfied that the property brought only a fraction of what it was worth, issued another execution, and had the property resold for the benefit of the creditors. At this sale he was the highest bidder. The claim of the rival owners was brought to the State courts for adjustment, with the result that a court of competent jurisdiction in North Carolina returned certain findings against the Charlotte bank—among others, that the property, at the time it was bought in by the bank for $12,500, was actually worth $40,000, and that the bank fraudulently suppressed bidding at the first sale in order to secure the property at its own price.

The case rested more than thirty years, until December 2, 1911, when Lewis B. Fronberger appeared in the District Court at Salisbury, holding unsatisfied claims against the Fronbergers in the amount of $27,500. He filed a petition charging that by reason of the alleged fraudulent conduct in the sale of the property, became, and is, a trustee of the property, and is, therefore, liable to them for $27,500—the difference between the $12,500 which it paid for the property, and the $40,000, which the courts have declared it was worth at the time of the sale.

Claim Is Barred.

The District Court at Salisbury in a decree by Judge Boyd on April 2, 1912, sustained a demurrer by the Charlotte bank denying the validity of the claim—chiefly on the ground that Fronberger represented creditors whose claims have long since been outlawed by the statute of limitations. The same view was taken yesterday by the Circuit Court of Appeals in its decision.

"A clear distinction is to be drawn," according to Judge Dayton, "between cases where one secures a suppression of bidding for one interested in the property, and one bidding for himself, who induces others not to bid against him. Judicial sales where the purchaser has stifled bidding are not void, but only voidable."

Even if the manner in which the bank secured the property was fraudulent, it is set forth, the claimant is barred by the statute of limitations, which makes mandatory the beginning of action within the three years from the time the fraud is discovered or by reasonable diligence could be discovered. The Crews trial in 1877 is held to be proof of the fact that the fraud had been discovered at that time.

If, as the appellant claims, constructive trust could be established, the bank's position, according to Judge Dayton, is still unassailable.

"It is to be remembered," says the judge on this point, "that contrary to cases of direct trust, the general statute of limitations are ordinarily held to be applicable."

Annie Wilson, colored, charged with resisting Officer Travis in the discharge of his duty, was fined $5 and costs and released on $100 bond for ninety days when arraigned yesterday morning in Police Court.

PHYSICIANS PUT NO BLAME ON GEE

Academy of Medicine and Surgery Gets Affidavits to Show He Is Careful.

DR. HORSLEY DEFENDS HIM

Says Drug Clerk Had No Right to Alter Dose Prescribed for LeMasurier Boy.

To rebut insinuations of carelessness cast upon Dr. E. W. Gee in connection with the fatal prescription for little four-year-old Robert Lionel LeMasurier, Dr. J. Shelton Horsley, president of the Richmond Academy of Medicine and Surgery, has joined with other officers of the academy in securing affidavits from druggists of the city to show that the prescription was not telephoned as "mild chloride of mercury," but as "calomel." Thomas W. McCrory, the young drug clerk who compounded the prescription, said on the witness stand that he confused Dr. Gee's order for mild chloride of mercury with bichloride of mercury. The physician and his friends strenuously deny that the term mild chloride of mercury was employed.

The affidavit of George T. Hogg, of 500 East Marshall Street, reads: "This is to certify that I have dispensed hundreds of Dr. E. W. Gee's prescriptions and telephone orders during the last ten years. I have never known Dr. Gee to use the term mild chloride of mercury when ordering calomel by telephone. He uses the word calomel. During my ten years' work with him, I have never seen an error of any kind in one of his prescriptions."

The sworn statement of H. M. Shields, formerly a druggist at 300 East Main Street, substantiates that of Mr. Hogg:

"This is to certify that I have dispensed prescriptions and telephone orders for Dr. E. W. Gee for the last seventeen years. When ordering calomel by telephone Dr. Gee uses the word calomel and he never uses the term mild chloride of mercury. I have been a registered pharmacist in the State of Virginia since our State law required registrations; more than twenty-five years."

Careful in Writing Them.

The affidavit of T. N. Curd, another pharmacist, is couched in still more convincing language. "This is to certify that during the past ten years I have dispensed several thousand of Dr. E. W. Gee's prescriptions, and have taken several hundred over the telephone for calomel and saccharated calomel, and in no single instance have I known him to use the term mild chloride of mercury when ordering calomel over the telephone. In my opinion, Dr. Gee is one of the most careful prescription writers in this city."

Dr. Horsley and other members of the Academy of Medicine and Surgery have presented what they call Mr. McCrory's error to saddle part of the blame for his fatal error upon the shoulders of Dr. Gee. In an open letter to the public, Dr. Horsley severely calls McCrory to task for altering the prescription without communicating with Dr. Gee. If the clerk felt that the prescription was dangerous, Dr. Horsley says, he should have either refused to compound it or should have consulted Dr. Gee at once. Every reputable druggist, says Dr. Horsley, knows that a dose of a grain of bichloride of mercury is a fatal dose for a child, yet the prescription as McCrory filed it called for two grains. The clerk says he altered the dose to provide for one and one-half grains of bichloride of mercury.

McCrory, who was held guilty of causing the little boy's death by a coroner's jury, was arraigned in Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of murder. The case was continued until March 21.

COOK COUNTY CLUB WILL VISIT CITY

Council and City Committee May Join in Reception to Chicago Democrats.

Suitable entertainment of the Cook County Democratic Club, Chicago, which goes to the inauguration of Washington next week as the escort to Mayor Carter Harrison, and which will visit Richmond on the following day, was discussed before the Council yesterday afternoon. Advertising and Entertainment Committee, was present, representing a committee of that organization, but presented no definite plan for the form of entertainment to be extended. Inasmuch as the club is made up of some of the most prominent men in Chicago, and in the escort to Mayor Harrison of that city, members of the committee were unanimous in their opinion that some form of hospitality should be extended on the occasion of their visit to Richmond. Lack of information as to the schedule to be followed made it impossible to say whether a banquet, buffet luncheon, or other form of reception would be most suitable, and after considerable debate the committee adjourned without taking action, to be called by President Peters whenever the City Democratic Committee has mapped out definite plans for the entertainment of the visiting Democrats.

While all were in sympathy with the plan, doubt was expressed as to the legality of the use of the fund set apart for advertising the resources of the city for the purpose of entertaining political organizations, however distinguished, and Chairman Peters was authorized to consult the City Attorney in advance of a further called meeting, which probably not been held until the budget has been adopted, and the funds for advertising are at the final disposition of this committee.

A letter was received from Mayor Ansell who was named by the resolution creating this committee as an ex-officio member, stating that since it had been held that he could not be counted in making a quorum, and had no power to vote, the committee being a standing committee of the City Council, his further attendance at the meetings might prove a source of embarrassment.

SHORTER HOURS FOR POSTAL MEN

Riley Eight-Hour Law in Effect
Next Week—Changes Schedules in Post-Office.

Beginning next Tuesday, the entire force of the central post-office will be put on a revised schedule of working hours in conformity with the Riley eight-hour law passed by Congress last summer, which forbids the compulsory working of any United States post-office employee more than eight hours in twenty-four, and provides further that these eight hours shall fall within a ten-hour period.

The rearrangement which this law will make necessary, said Acting Postmaster Southward, will cause a complete recasting of schedules which have been in force for years. While the local office has for a long time followed what was in effect an eight-hour rule, it reserved the right to distribute the working day so as to afford the best service with the fewest number of men.

To take care of the changes which will follow the application of the Riley law, four new men have been added to the force. These are John D. Hammett, Leslie G. Apperson, Howard Souger and Irving T. Anderson. The men were employed since January 1, temporarily, in the parcel post division. Beginning next Tuesday they become permanently enrolled as part of the force of the local post-office, and take up duties in other departments. Their places in the parcel post division will be filled by recruits from the waiting list.

The new law will materially shorten the hours of post-office workers throughout the United States. The change in the Richmond office will be less marked, because of the liberal employment practice which has been followed in the local post-office for years.

EDUCATED WOMEN SHOULD BE VOTERS

Dr. Freeman Believes It Would Balance Electorate—Gives
History of Movement.

Ending a plea for limited suffrage based on education and interest in the affairs of government, Dr. D. S. Freeman, in an address before the Equal Suffrage League, at its headquarters last night, advocated the extension of the ballot to educated women in the interest of a better balance in the affairs of government.

His speech was a history of suffrage, special attention being paid to its development in England, beginning with the efforts of Alfred the Great. The Magna Charta, he said, was more of a victory for the barons than for the people, and that the nobles were like the modern grafting politician, who, having been in power, annex all advantages for themselves.

He called attention to the fact that qualifications for voting have always been fixed by the town or borough, rather than by the nominal governing authority—the King.

Mrs. Stephen Putnam, formerly of Richmond, and now of Wytheville, told of the success of the Wytheville league, which was formed last October by fifty members. She also spoke of the progress of the move for equal suffrage.

PARCELS NOW BY SPECIAL DELIVER

Executive Order Makes Further
Improvement in New Mail Service.

Under a new order promulgated yesterday by Postmaster-General Hitchcock, parcel post packages are permitted to special delivery privilege upon the payment of the regular rate of 10 cents that has hitherto applied to first-class matter. The order is ready in effect, and notice was served yesterday by Acting Postmaster Southward that the local office will be after accept parcels for special delivery.

The important provision to bear mind in connection with the new service, is that parcel post stamps will not be accepted in lieu of the special delivery stamp that is sold for that purpose. A parcel intended to be forwarded by special delivery must bear the distinctive parcel post stamp for carriage to its destination, and in addition must bear either the regular 10-cent special delivery stamp or ordinary postage stamps of the same value.

The special delivery rate is the same for all parcels, regardless of weight or destination. It is regarded by post-office authorities in Richmond as a desirable improvement in the new service, and as a forerunner of still other improvements to come.

"The Post-Office Department is now at work on a plan to afford users of the parcel post, C. O. D. privileges," said Acting Postmaster Southward. "There has been a persistent demand for such a service. I believe that the C. O. D. privilege will be authorized at an early date, and that shippers will make now of the collect on delivery service offered by the express companies."

Rev. J. J. Wicker Acquitted.

Rev. John J. Wicker, pastor of Leigh Street Baptist Church, was tried yesterday in the Hustings Court on the charge of speeding his automobile and was acquitted by the jury. The case came up on appeal from the Police Court and had been many times continued.

Paragraph Pulpit

OUR OBJECT.

The purpose of the Paragraph Pulpit is not to antagonize other Christian denominations. Nor is its purpose to disturb those who find comfort and help in the traditional beliefs. Its mission grows out of the fact that Unitarianism is unknown in this section, and, more than this, it is often misrepresented and maligned. Many people who sing the hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," will be surprised to know the Unitarian have been told, and have believed, Unitarians are atheists. This would result not because there is anything surprising in the fact, but because they have been told, and have believed, Unitarians are atheists. (Advertisement.)
